

Weather: Atmospheric conditions at any given time

Climate: Temperature and moisture conditions over a long period of time

Weather	Climate
It was cloudy and rainy all weekend. Jenny's roof sprang a leak last week because of all the rain. In 2005, Hurricane Katrina hit the Gulf Coast. A big blizzard in Connecticut caused power outages across the state. The daily forecast for Charlotte, North Carolina is partly cloudy with a 30 percent chance of rain. Maria looked out her window and noticed it was a cloudy day. Today it was sunny, but tomorrow there is a 10 percent chance of rain. I had to put on a sweater today because it was cold. Yesterday was the hottest day of the year.	The average yearly rainfall in Hawaii is 78 Inches. Arizona is dry most of the time. When looking at the precipitation in the desert over time, we noticed that the desert is very dry. The average low temperature for Atlanta, Georgia is 56°F. The lowest recorded temperature for Atlanta, Georgia is -8°F. The highest recorded temperature for Atlanta, Georgia is 106°F. It is usually raining in Seattle. In a tropical rain forest, it is very humid and it rains almost every day. A typical day in Brazil would be humid and hot. The average high temperature for Atlanta, Georgia is 80°F. Every year when Timmy goes to Colorado for Christmas, there is plenty of snow for skiing.

--	--